

SALISBURY DIOCESE AND THE SUDANS

Covid restrictions on schools in both Sudans means pupils stay at home

On the 8th September Sudan reported 13,437 cases and 833 reported deaths , in South Sudan 2,545 case with 48 reported deaths Schools have been closed, but the Bishop of Salisbury's appeal for the Sudan has raised over £78,300; equal amounts being sent to both countries to buy and distribute soap and sanitizer

Salisbury and Juba

Support of Primary and Secondary Schools in Southern Sudan with science projects, teacher training, buying school equipment and desks and supporting children on bursaries

Some of the schools

- The following slides compares images of some of our partnership Basic schools with the U.K.
- Ephatha is one of the schools depicted. Improvement work was funded by the local church and community , bursaries by Salisbury.
- The South Sudanese value the education of their young people very highly. The 1st thing normally built in a community is a Church, the 2nd is a School.

The “All Important” Children.

The next few slides show the 2019 Bursary children. (33). They have been supported by private individuals, schools, church groups even a golfing society from various parts of the U.K for the poorest of the poor.

Ephatha Basic School.

- A Bursary for a Basic school child costs £65 a year. £5 of that is used to fund an annual party for the children. This is attended by a Salisbury / Sudan's link member who is always kind enough to bring back photographs of and letters from the children. These are forwarded to the U.K. Sponsors.

The Opening of a Teacher Training course.

- Teachers from 6 Basic Juba Diocese schools attend.
- 2019 course had 55 attendees.
- The course is held in January during the long school holiday and paid for by Salisbury.
- Teachers in South Sudan often have no formal teaching qualifications, these courses raise their skill level.
- They are poorly paid even by South Sudanese standards. This training shows them that they are held in high regard and encourages them to stay in the profession.
- The training works, exam results have increased by 10% since the 1st course in 2015.
