Baha'i Hidden Words

The Hidden Words are a work consisting of short passages in Persian and Arabic revealed by Bahá'u'lláh during His exile in Baghdad, 1857/58. They were translated into English by Shoghi Effendi, Bahá'u'lláh's great-grandson.

One of the practices of the Baha'i Faith is to read and reflect on the Holy Writings both morning and evening, and these short verses are perfect for this.
