Qu. 5 How can we best measure the quality and impact of church life?	To measure is difficult, and has a personal dimension, but seem to be growing closer to each other.	The regular church members are all involved in community life. Members' children and grandchildren return 'home' for weddings and baptisms.	We don't measure in numbers, but quality. We support the whole Benefice, host the choir, and offer celebration at festivals for the whole community.	We used a questionnaire. We plan to be good neighbours, stay open for weddings etc. generally give good service to the community. Communicate better.	This is immeasurable. One cannot tell where ripples blessing reach. But the church is busy with weddings and baptisms.	Immeasurable. Ripples of blessing reach far and the church is busy with weddings and baptisms.	The accounts; number attending; enthusiasm of the preacher; warmth of welcome from congregation; our impact on the community.
