

Latest News

Curate's Crazy Cycling Commences

This Thursday (15th July), at 5.00am, the Curate of St James' Church Devizes, Richard Saint, will start his challenge of ascending 10,000 metres on his bike using the online cycling platform Zwift.

He is doing this to raise awareness of modern slavery and to raise funds for Hope for Justice as they strive to live in a world free from slavery.

Read our previous story here.

For those who might be waiting to see if he makes it, the whole cycle is being livestreamed on YouTube (click here to watch) and you can watch at any time during the day to see how he is getting on and write an encouraging message.

It is likely to take between 15 and 20 hours, so do keep checking into YouTube to see his progress.

During each mountain ascent you will be able to watch Richard pedal desperately whilst also taking in the stunning scenery of the virtual mountain. During each descent, some short videos will be shown detailing the work of Hope for Justice.

Richard says:

“A massive thank you to everyone who has sponsored me, it is so appreciated.

“If you would like to join in bringing an end to slavery, consider donating by clicking here.

“Thank you so much.”

HOPE FOR JUSTICE

Change lives. End slavery.

Modern slavery still exists.

There are 40.3 million trapped
in slavery worldwide

Source: International Labour Organisation

Modern slavery awareness in association with

Modern slavery still exists even in the UK

In 2019, there were 10,627 potential victims of modern slavery referred in the UK.

Modern slavery awareness in association with

