

VOCATIONS ENQUIRY MORNING

Saturday 15th May, via Zoom

How might God be calling you?

'Fear not, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by name, you are mine' (Isaiah 43:1)

God calls each of us by name (Isaiah 43:1), and the heart of responding to our vocation is to be the unique person God calls us to be.

It is the calling of all Christians to represent Christ in and to the world. Our response to God's call involves our reflecting the love of God to others in our own contexts and situations.

We all have gifts and skills and often these can be used in our churches or in our communities to share God's love with those around us. This is a calling for every Christian.

It is often other people who suggest to us that perhaps God is calling us into some form of leadership in the church. There are many different routes and pathways. The Vocation Enquiry Morning will explore some of the possibilities and help us to think about the ways in which God might be calling us.

It is an opportunity to meet with some of the Diocesan Vocations Advisors, as well as with other enquirers who think God might be calling them too, and to explore the next steps of your journey in faith.

If you would like to join this morning on the 15th May, please email us at vocations@salisbury.anglican.org.
